Declaration

The application form is a source of information which will be used by the New Zealand Law Society (Law Society) to assist in considering your suitability for the position for which you are applying. If successful, such information shall form part of the Law Society records. Failure to supply information requested may impact the Law Society's ability to assess your suitability for appointment. The information is provided in accordance with the Privacy Act 1993. You are entitled to access the information in this form upon request. For more information about the Law Society's Privacy and Information Handling Policies please refer to www.lawsociety.org.nz/privacy.

I declare that to the best of my knowledge the answers to the questions in this application are correct and I understand that if any false, inaccurate or misleading information is given, or any material fact suppressed, and if I have appointed to a Law Society committee, I may be removed from this position. I acknowledge that the information contained in this application is material to the Law Society's decision to appoint me.

I consent to the Law Society seeking verbal or written information on a confidential basis about me. I authorise the information sought to be released to the Law Society for the purposes of ascertaining my suitability to the position for which I am applying. I understand the information gained from this will be held in confidence as evaluative material and will not be available to me.

I understand that any relevant complaint/own motion investigation and/or disciplinary matter held by the New Zealand Law Society will be disclosed to the those considering this application.

Please note, the existence of a complaint or disciplinary matter will not automatically exclude you from being a law reform committee member. If you wish to discuss any aspect of this, please feel free to contact the Manager, Law Reform and Advocacy at the Law Society via email to lawreform@lawsociety.org.nz.
