Relationship property survey – reminder to participate

Just a reminder for those members who practise in the area of relationship property to compete the relationship property survey the FLS are running with Grant Thornton. This year's survey will build on the initial two reports produced from the 2017 and 2019 surveys and help the profession and its stakeholders understand current trends and issues. To date 65 members have completed the survey. We encourage all family lawyers practising in this area of law to participate in the survey so that the report has comprehensive uptake and is as meaningful as possible. The survey will run until 30 November. Click here to access the survey.
