

Study materials for the New Zealand Law and Practice examination

Please see the order form for a breakdown of the costs for the supply of our materials for each part of the examination. Our materials package includes the majority of the cases and journal articles in the prescription. It does not include statutes or significant amounts of textual material due to copyright restrictions. Further suggestions for obtaining materials which are not included can be found on the information sheet provided by the Council of Legal Education (“Obtaining prescribed materials”).

If you wish to purchase the full package of materials or any individual part/s, please send the completed order form to auckland@lawsociety.org.nz. If you have any questions about payment or delivery, please contact us.

Candidates residing in New Zealand may pay by the following methods:

- Direct Credit
- Credit Card

Candidates residing overseas may pay by credit card (Visa or Mastercard only). No GST is charged to overseas candidates.

Payment should be made out to the New Zealand Law Society.

The New Zealand Law Society Library, Auckland provides this service for NZLP examination candidates who do not have easy access to New Zealand legal materials. The Library is not associated with the examinations in any way. To obtain additional information regarding the examination or admittance procedures please contact the New Zealand Council for Legal Education directly.

Whilst all possible care has been taken with regard to the accuracy and completeness of this study material, it does not represent an official collection of requisite material. Accordingly, neither the New Zealand Law Society nor members of the library staff accept any responsibility for reliance placed upon it.

Please feel free to contact the library if you have any further inquiries.

Kind regards,
